DEPARTMENT TECHNOLOGY

The personnel of the Broadview Police Department are well equipped with many of the latest advances in law enforcement technology. The cost of the majority of our programs have either been offset or fully funded by grants, forfeiture funds and revenue generated through increased enforcement efforts. The officers are provided with the appropriate body armor necessary to ensure their safety. Our vehicle fleet is kept in excellent condition and all of the marked units are equipped with a state-of-the-art camera systems and mobile data computers. Our station is equipped with a Live-Scan finger print machine and a digital booking system, allowing for immediate entry in the State and National database of all individuals arrested by our Department. Our constant desire to maintain our high standards and to keep looking toward the future of law enforcement will ensure that our residents will continue to receive the excellent service they are entitled to.

Report Room

The “Report Room” is where officers go to complete their paperwork, post-arrest. This office is equipped with two workstations and all of the necessary resources to assure complete and accurate work.

Roll Call Room

A room in a police station where the Watch Commander briefs the shifts on important information, assemble the officers for inspection, and makes duty assignments.

POLICE ACCOUNTABILITY COMMAND SESSION (PACS)

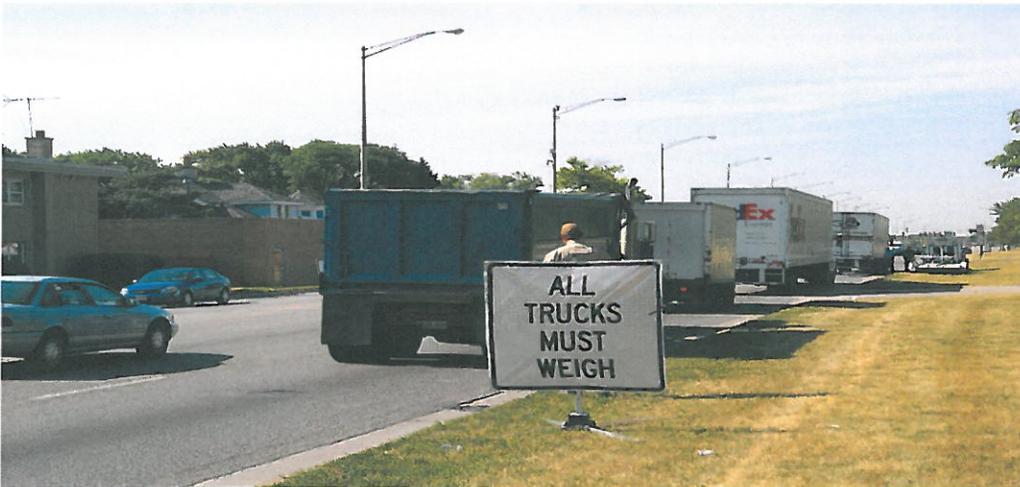

The concept of PACS is to analyze numbers and locations of crimes and arrests as well as suspects, victims, days and times of criminal activity, and so forth, to identify crime patterns, clusters, suspects, and hot spots. Strategies are then formulated to counter increasing incidences of crime. The PACS process has encouraged creativity in strategies, allocating resources, and deploying police personnel while holding managers and employees accountable for confronting the problems of crime proactively. The accountability sessions has ensured the appropriate supervisor is proactively monitoring the activity of his unit by reviewing and analyzing reports, implementing a response to the analysis, and assessing the outcome of the response. In essence, consistent direction would be provided, performance would be measured, and accountability would be assured. This concept is not new to law enforcement, it is known as COMPSTAT.

TRUCK/TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT INITIATIVE

Overweight truck enforcement is another primary duty of the Broadview Police Departments Traffic Safety Focus. On January 2012, the Board approved the hiring of a part-time Police Officer focusing on truck/traffic enforcement.

This officer patrolled the village looking for overweight trucks traveling through Broadview. Additionally, he scheduled truck/traffic details/operations with the Illinois State Police and other local law enforcement agencies throughout the year. During these roadside checks, all commercial, construction and garbage trucks were checked for proper traffic weight and given a thorough safety inspection by the State Police Motor Carrier Safety Officers. Through these roadside safety checks we limit the number of unsafe commercial vehicles traveling on Broadview roads.

CALLS FOR SERVICE

The Broadview Police Department is a service-oriented Police Department that uses an analytical approach to respond to calls for services. Whether it's a crime in progress or to assist in a barking dog, officers will respond in a timely manner.

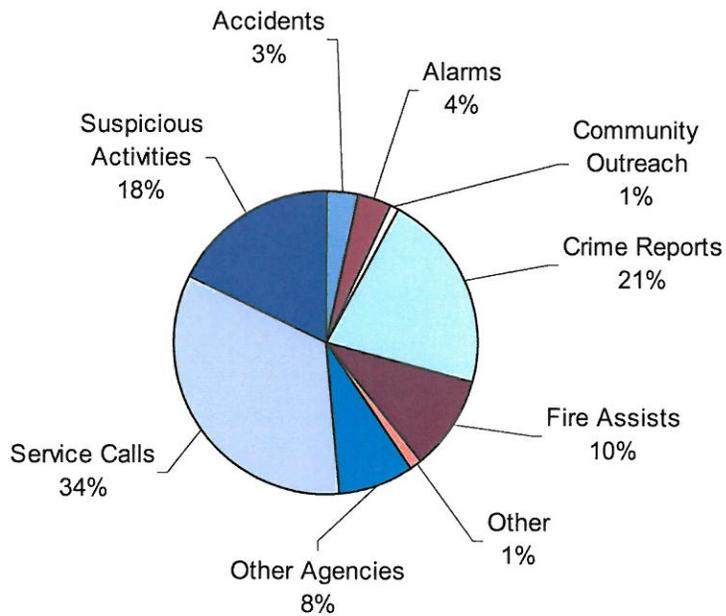

These graphs represent a distribution of calls for service for the hour of day, day of the week, and types of calls to which the police department has responded. In comparison to 2011 an increase in calls of service of 12%, was realized.

BUDGET OVERVIEW

The total operating budget for the Broadview Police Department for fiscal year 2012, which includes the period from May 1, 2012 through April 30, 2013 is $4,643,352.63.

As may be expected Professional Services requires the largest budgetary expense in order to fund the day-to-day operations. Professional Services can be broken down into Divisional expenditures with the Operations Division accounting for 73% and the Administrative Services comprising 27%.

CRISIS PLANNING

Broadview Police and Fire continues to work closely with School District 89 and 92 in the development of their Crisis Response Plans. Plans have also been developed for other incidents and/or crisis.

2012 NEW INITIATIVES

In 2012, the Police Department created or re-created programs that would assist our communication efforts with the community, assisted with the Department's cost savings measures, allowed the community to view "real time" statistics, and enhanced our police-community relationships.

Nixle

Nixle Connect allows the Broadview Police Department to notify residents of emergencies via text message. Once a resident signs up for this free service, they will be notified in the event that something is occurring, which necessitates their attention. Residents can register with Nixle by visiting www.Nixle.com, or by visiting the village website www.Broadview-il.gov.

Crime Mapping

Crime statistics for Broadview are now available 24/7 thanks to Crimemapping.com. Crime information is uploaded automatically through our servers every 24hours, so that you can know exactly what's going on in near real-time. This is an effort to keep you informed and engaged in what's happening in your neighborhood. This information can be viewed on any computer and on many smart phones as well. Iphone users can download the free app from the Itunes store. We sincerely hope you'll take advantage of this new technology.

Police Watch Newsletter

This Police Watch newsletter is just one of the ways that the Broadview Police Department is trying to connect with our Community. By sharing information with you, we can keep you informed about what's happening in town. You can find copies of our newsletter at the Village Hall, Broadview Public Library, Broadview Park District and online at www.Broadview-il.gov.

Neighborhood Watch

2012 saw the return of a Neighborhood Watch program in Broadview. Residents immediately stepped forward to volunteer as Officers, Block Captains, and Area Coordinators. Meetings are held at 7pm on the last Friday of every month @ the Village Council Chambers. Come share your ideas and concerns with fellow neighbors and members of the Police Department who regularly attend the meetings.

Bullying

Schools across the country are recognizing that bullying is an issue which needs to be dealt with if we want our kids to succeed. Broadview students deserve to learn without fear of violence or intimidation. Sergeant Thomas Kostka of the Community Outreach Program Bureau has been meeting with educators from both schools for research on this topic. Once research is complete, he will assist in implementing a curriculum to help address the problem of bullying in our schools. Sgt. Kostka hopes to have a meaningful dialogue with students about "Respect" and what that word means to them. Some children are under the impression that fear = respect. As adults, we know that this isn't true, so it's our job to make that distinction clear. The website www.stopbullying.gov is just one of the resources we're using to develop the new curriculum. This site provides useful information about bullying identification and prevention. Beginning this month, Sgt. Kostka will begin traveling between Roosevelt and Lindop Schools to begin making presentations to the students.

LESO (Law Enforcement Support Office)

L.E.S.O

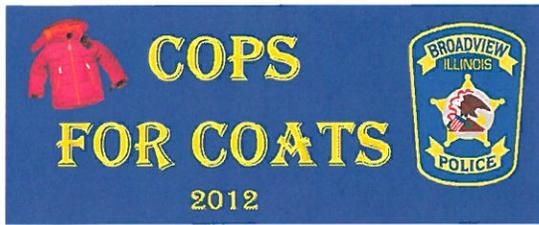

When the United States Military no longer has a use for their equipment, law enforcement has the ability to acquire that equipment for free by utilizing the Law Enforcement Support Office or L.E.S.O system. Broadview Police began acquiring equipment from the military in March 2012. Since then, we have acquired two Humvee military vehicles, one full size dump truck, twenty three complete computer systems, two overhead projectors, and two cardiac defibrillators.

Operation Santa Claus

For the second year in a row, the Police Department joined with the Park District, Fire Department, Village Hall, and the Library, to raise money and deliver gifts to deserving families in Broadview. This year, residents and local businesses contributed enough money to purchase gifts for 11 families. Several volunteers joined in a caravan of fire trucks and squad cars, as we visited homes on Christmas Eve to deliver the gifts. We were proud and honored to help make Christmas special for all of these families, and we look forward to doing it again in 2013.

Cops for Coats

The Broadview Police Department organized our first Cops for Coats coat drive in 2012.

Residents filled 3 large boxes with their new or gently used coats and jackets. Once the items were collected, they were offered to Broadview residents on a first come-first served basis. All remaining items were then donated to the local Salvation Army.

The HUMVEE

One of the first things this Police Department acquired (free) from the LESO program was an authentic military Humvee. This vehicle was then equipped with state of the art lighting and graphics and turned into a “Special Ops” all terrain response-vehicle. This unit will be especially helpful to us during heavy snowfall. Look for our Humvee at public events too, it always draws a crowd.

Bike Patrol

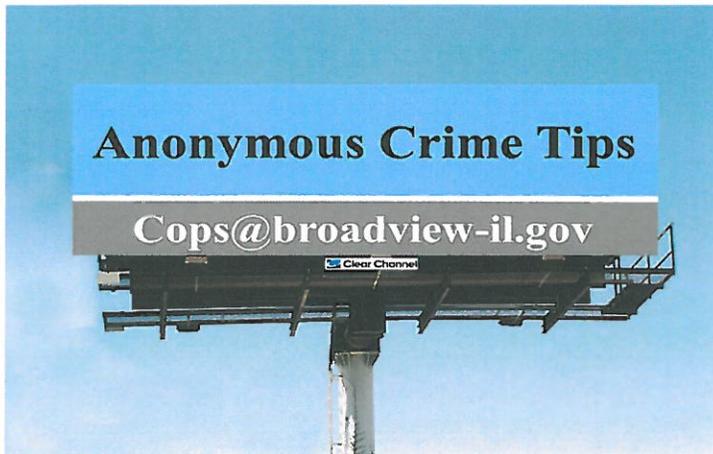

2012 saw the re-implementation of our Bike Patrol unit. During the warmer months, our officers are encouraged to jump on the bike during their shift and interact with the residents and local businesses. We have found that eliminating the barrier of a squad car, creates an opportunity for dialogue with the people we serve. There is a tactical element too. An officer on a bicycle can fit between apartment buildings and can watch for criminal activity from behind a tree or a parked car. Next time you see one of our Bike Officers, wave them over and introduce yourself. They're there for YOU!

Walk n' Talk

We now encourage our officers to get out of their cars and connect with the public on foot. There is no better way to really get a feel for a specific area of town, than by getting out of the car and actually 'walking the beat'. Officers on foot are visible and approachable. They are expected to stop and have conversations with owners and patrons of local businesses. The benefits of this time-tested method of patrol are being felt by residents, business leaders, AND the officers who get to know them.

The Broadview Police Department recognizes that residents may sometimes feel uneasy about reporting certain types of crime. Fear of retribution keeps good people from reporting criminal activity even when it's occurring right outside their own front door. By establishing an email address for reporting these types of crimes anonymously, we hope to encourage good citizenship, while offering a sense of security to those who might otherwise feel their only choice is to look the other way. Anonymous crime tips can be sent 24/7 to cops@broadview-il.gov.

REPORTS AND ANALYSIS

Vehicle Pursuits

It is policy of the Broadview Police Department not to engage in vehicle pursuit for offenses other than serious felonies. Vehicle pursuit is justified only when the officer knows or has reasonable grounds to believe the suspect is attempting to evade apprehension and the suspect, if allowed to escape, may present a danger to human life or cause serious injury to other people. There were three (3) pursuits reported for 2012. There are no trends or patterns identified that would indicate additional training, policy changes or need for additional equipment.

Internal Investigation

The purpose of establishing an internal investigation policy is to maintain professional conduct in the department. These procedures will assure prompt and thorough investigation of alleged violation of policies and, if needed, will facilitate suitable corrective action. In 2012, there were 12 internal investigations, as compared to five (5) in 2011. The following report is a collection of data derived from the internal investigations conducted during the 2012 calendar year.

Special Investigations

The Chief's Office opened two (2) investigated cases which were supervised by the Chief of Police. The outcome of one of the cases was sustained and thus making changes to the Village's internal controls. The other case was turned over to the Cook County State's Attorney's Office for review. The State's Attorney's Office accepted the case and subsequently the subject of the investigation was indicted by a Cook County Grand Jury.

Analysis of Grievances

It has been the policy of the Department to strictly adhere to the policy of the Village of Broadview, which establishes and maintains the Grievance Procedure that is designed to resolve matters between the employee and employer fairly and expeditiously. A grievance is any complaint concerning working conditions, classification, salary, or other work related matters covered under the collected bargaining agreement between the village and the unions. An annual analysis of grievances is required in order to determine if a trend is observed and what steps may be taken to minimize the causes of such grievances in the future. There were two (2) grievances filed in 2012. No patterns or trends can be determined at this time.

HISTORY OF THE BROADVIEW POLICE DEPARTMENT

Located in Cook County, Illinois, on the outskirts of Chicago, the Village of Broadview was incorporated on December 6, 1914. Today, the Village of Broadview has grown to a population of 8,466. Broadview encompasses approximately 1.3 square miles of land and is comprised of 2,300 residential homes, 70 multi-family units, 95 commercial businesses and 150 industrial businesses.

At the time the Village of Broadview was incorporated in 1914, Herman Radtke was appointed to the unpaid position of Village Marshall. As there were no telecommunication services, electricity or public transportation in the village, the Marshall had to either walk or use his own horses when his services were required. In May of 1918, Joseph Huszar was appointed as a motorcycle policeman, at a salary of $75 per month. Huszar received the nickname "Indian Joe", because of the Indian motorcycle he drove throughout his career.

Today, Chief of Police Luis C. Tigera commands a staff of thirty-three sworn and civilian employees, with an operational cost of 4.6 million dollars.

The Broadview Police Department seeks to improve the quality of life for our citizens through unimpeachable integrity, public service, training and education as well as by safe-guarding the public by reducing crime and the fear of crime.
